GENERAL APPLICATION

This Carrier will accept Propane and Ethane for interstate receipt and delivery points named herein, subject to the following Rules and Regulations:

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

---

ITEM 5 DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN THIS TARIFF

"Barrel" as herein used means forty-two (42) United States gallons at sixty degrees (60°) Fahrenheit and equilibrium pressure.

"Carrier" as herein used means and refers to Sorrento Pipeline Company, LLC.

"Gallon" as herein used means a United States liquid gallon of 231 cubic inches at sixty degrees (60°) Fahrenheit and equilibrium pressure.

ITEM 10 MINIMUM TENDER - Shipments will be accepted for transportation under this tariff in quantities of not less than five hundred (500) Barrels.

ITEM 15 DESTINATION FACILITIES REQUIRED - Shipments to Sorrento will be received for transportation only when the consignor or consignee has provided the necessary facilities required to receive such shipments as they arrive at destination.

ITEM 20 MEASURING, TESTING AND VOLUME CORRECTIONS - Propane tendered to Carrier for transportation may be tested by Carrier prior to its receipt from Shipper. Quantities shall be measured through meters at point of origin. The volume accepted for transportation will be corrected as to temperature from observed degrees Fahrenheit to sixty degrees (60°) Fahrenheit and further corrected for pressure in accordance with A.P.I. Standard 1101 – Measurement of Petroleum Hydrocarbons by Positive Displacement Meters. Transportation charges will be assessed on such corrected volumes.

Observed volumes of Ethane shall be corrected to net component volumes at 60° F and equilibrium vapor pressure by the use of flowing mass, a component analysis of a sample accumulated from the flowing stream, and component densities from the latest GPA 2145 Standard.

ITEM 25 QUANTITIES DELIVERABLE - The quantity of Propane and Ethane deliverable at destination shall be the quantity received at origin less shrinkage, evaporation or other loss in transit, including leaks and breaks, resulting from any cause other than negligence on the part of the Carrier.
